

A Genesis Found

In 1938, CCC cadet John Patton Jr. found the key to our darkest secret an anomalous skeleton neither animal nor man. Uncertain of its implications, Patton hid the discovery away from the world though never forgetting what he found. Seventy years later, his grandson Gardner is forced to come to terms with his grandfather's past, a man he never knew but in whose footsteps he inevitably follows. When his cousin, controversial documentarian Bart Thompson, arrives for a seemingly routine shoot, Gardner is eager to lend a hand. He soon learns, however, that Bart isn't back just to make a movie he wants to find the discovery their grandfather buried nearly seventy years before, and prove what he claimed was true.
