

Puterea stiintei (Romanian Edition)

Anestins last science fiction novella (or short novel), The Power of Science or How the European War Was Killed (Puterea stiintei sau cum a fost omorat Razboiul European, 1916), with the sub-title Fantastic tale, does not reach the same aesthetic value, its interest and contemporary significance lying mainly in its ideological message. When the book was written, Romania was not engaged in the war yet, which explains the main role ascribed naively by Anestin to the country in arresting the hostilities and making the peace. Of some literary interest remain the passages describing the comical and burlesque effects of the laughing-gas bombs exploding in the United States.
