

The 2009 Import and Export Market for Abrasive Powder and Grain in Romania

On the demand side, exporters and strategic planners focusing on abrasive powder and grain in Romania face a number of questions. Which countries are supplying abrasive powder and grain to Romania? How important is Romania compared to others in terms of the entire global and regional market? How much do the imports of abrasive powder and grain vary from one country of origin to another in Romania? On the supply side, Romania also exports abrasive powder and grain. Which countries receive the most exports from Romania? How are these exports concentrated across buyers? What is the value of these exports and which countries are the largest buyers? This report was created for strategic planners, international marketing executives and import/export managers who are concerned with the market for abrasive powder and grain in Romania. With the globalization of this market, managers can no longer be contented with a local view. Nor can managers be contented with out-of-date statistics which appear several years after the fact. I have developed a methodology, based on macroeconomic and trade models, to estimate the market for abrasive powder and grain for those countries serving Romania via exports, or supplying from Romania via imports. It does so for the current year based on a variety of key historical indicators and econometric models. In what follows, Chapter 2 begins by summarizing where Romania fits into the world market for imported and exported abrasive powder and grain. The total level of imports and exports on a worldwide basis, and those for Romania in particular, is estimated using a model which aggregates across over 150 key country markets and projects these to the current year. From there, each country represents a percent of the world market. This market is served from a number of competitive countries of origin. Based on both demand- and supply-side dynamics, market shares by country of origin are then calculated
